Attached at the Heart Parenting Educator Training
Returns to Toronto, Ontario - May 3-5, 2019

ARE YOU PASSIONATE ABOUT HELPING FAMILIES
CREATE SECURE ATTACHMENTS?

Attachment Parenting International (API) is proud to present the Attached at the Heart Parenting Program (AHPP) based on the book Attached at the Heart: Eight Proven Principles for Raising Connected and Compassionate Children. The Attached at the Heart Parenting Program is grounded in attachment theory, informed by cutting edge research, and designed as a prevention model to help parents better understand and apply API's Eight Principles of Parenting for a child's optimal physical and emotional development.

At this three day training, you can become a Certified Attached at the Heart Parenting Educator (CAHPE) with the information and materials you need to teach parenting classes in your community. We are looking for good candidates such as mental health professionals, social workers, childbirth and lactation educators, and family life educators.

Program developers and API co-founders Barbara Nicholson and Lysa Parker will be present to personally teach the program. Apply today to take advantage of this rare opportunity to expand your knowledge base and become one of a select group of Certified Attached at the Heart Parent Educators.

You will learn:

- ♥ Attachment theory basics and parent education principles
- ♥ Attachment's critical importance for the family and society
- ♥ Attachment Parenting as defined by API
- ♥ Cultural myths about parenting and myths about AP
- ♥ Hands on activities and strategies for teaching the parents you serve and much more!

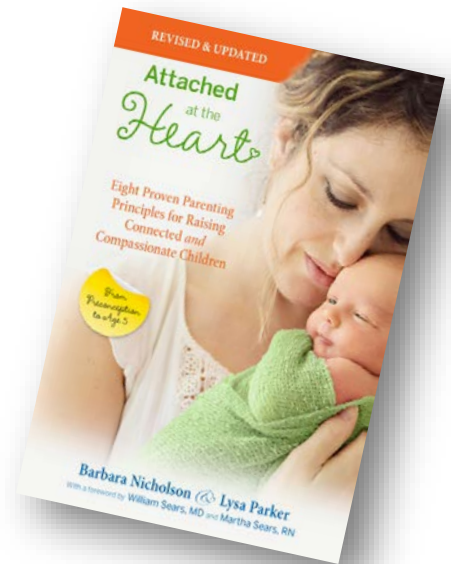

Workshop Tuition includes:

- ♥ Ten step-by-step lesson plans with downloadable materials, music, videos, activities, parenting tips and parent handouts
- ♥ Morning and afternoon snacks
- ♥ Training to use the Adult-Adolescent Parenting Inventory (AAPI-2) assessment tool
- ♥ Three full days of parenting education training by the founders of API
